

Hillsborough Recorder.

WEDNESDAY.....SEPT. 24, 1873.

Editorial Correspondence.

RICHMOND, Sep. 18th. 1873.

I reached here this morning at half past 6 via Charlotte—a considerable elbow, but unavoidable—unless I had spent 22 hours in Greensboro. Now I like Greensboro very much, and admire its spirit of improvement, but there is something fascinating in the giant energy of Charlotte; and its determination to be a great place. So I pushed on there to spend my spare time, and witness its progress. That destiny is clearly written in the book of fate, and North Carolina too will boast of a great interior town like Atlanta, both the creations of the rail road systems. Charlotte may be said to have just begun to feel the impulse of the Air line road. When the Central Carolina is completed through the mountains and connections made with the great north-east, then indeed will she bound forward to her destiny.

Great improvements are going forward every day. I find the foundations for a large Opera house laid and the walls going up. Large and handsome new stores are being built, while in almost every part of the city new and elegant private dwellings are going up.

A good deal of ridicule has been cast upon the ice machine, which was to refrigerate Charlotte this summer. It is not properly a failure, and will now work successfully, though it has tantalized the citizens a long time with unrealized hopes. It is no Trans-Atlantic balloon affair, but a bona fide scientific creation, and will soon astonish by its results.

While at Charlotte, the news was received of the fatal accident on the S. C. Road from collision between a pay and passenger train, by which the pay-master and others were killed, and numbers wounded. The public are by this time familiar with the details.

RICHMOND.

I find Richmond the same busy hive it always is, steadily improving, and enlarging. A stranger struck with the influence of the newly opened Chesapeake and Ohio Road, yet every merchant will tell you the city feels it sensibly in many ways. It could not be otherwise when it is considered what an immense field of new operations it has opened to Richmond. Even if it did not go to the Ohio River, reach out a large share of the Pacific trade, the very fact it penetrates almost the finest mineral region in the world, and has tapped the very fountain head of its wealth, would be of itself sufficient to build up Richmond.

I have been too much engaged to go about the city except in a circumscribed circle, and therefore have picked up but few items of any kind. Our friends at the Whig office give me every comforting assurance of the political condition of the State, and have not the slightest doubt of the triumphant success of the conservative candidates.

Mr. T. C. Evans goes off to-night to accompany the candidates on the campaign and report progress.

CAMPAIGN IN VIRGINIA.

Unusual animation and unabated interest characterizes the contest for the preservation of old Virginia from the clutches of radical misrule. It is rare to find in a local contest such a development of talent, and such determination of purpose. Virginia has every incentive to perseverance in her warfare from the warning of the miserable fate of such of her sister States as have fallen under that blighting despotism, and we are not for a moment doubtful with such pregnant example upon her, that she will persevere to the achievement of a decisive victory.

Much in the contest in Virginia will not be its example upon other States. It is not to be doubted that the same platform of principle must eventually be adopted by all the Southern States. Intelligence and virtue must control the management of affairs, and the property holders must be protected from the unscrupulous rapacity of those who have no interest in the soil, and whose only aim it is to pillage or desolate by excessive taxation.

The Richmond Enquirer hopes that since Waterson has returned, he will set the Courier-Journal all right again. When the cats are away, the mice will play, and there is no question that some political tyro has been chiding ink for the first time, at the expense of the standing of the Journal to see how the thing worked. We know Waterson is all right, and that he understands the subject thoroughly, and will not cease to be a trusted ally of Virginia and of the South.

Several articles unavoidably crowded out this week.

THE CHARLOTTE FAIR PRINTING.

The Concord Sun and other papers have handled the executive committee somewhat roughly, and we thought deservedly so, for having the printing connected with the approaching annual exhibition done abroad. It seems reasonable and national that the home press which has done so much to promote the interest of the Fair is so many ways should have the benefit of any and all patronage the committee had to bestow even if prices were somewhat higher.

It involved a gross and crying inconsistency to institute an enterprise to develop home interests in all their branches, and then turn a cold shoulder upon one of the most important, and one requiring more encouragement if possible than any other, and involving as it does, a good deal of ingratiation and forgetfulness of continuous efficient and unselfish aid.

The Charlotte Observer, however comes to the rescue, and we think exonerates the committee from intentional wrong, or a parsimonious spirit. The job was a very heavy one, consisting of many thousand pamphlets and colored posters. The latter we have seen, and know they cannot be printed in North Carolina. It was unavoidable to have them at least executed abroad, and it is probable that no Charlotte office could have finished in time the other portion of the job.

But we are glad to see Bro. Harris wide awake, a good watch dog in the treasury, and his vigilance will keep thing right where they can be controlled.

LYNCHBURG AND DANVILLE R.

The Danville Times says a mile of this road near Danville still remains to be laid. It is probable the road will use for some time to come the bridge of the R&D Road across Dan River. The track of the road has been laid 18 miles south of Lynchburg.

We are interested in knowing of its completion. It will not stop at Danville, but must be pushed farther South. When that question comes up for decision, Orange and Caswell must speak with a controlling voice. We have not lost sight of the subject, nor are our enterprising friends of Fayetteville indifferent to the matter.

THE VOTE.

Constitutional Amendments, leaving out the counties of Camden and Polk, which have not been heard from at the office of the Governor, and counting Dare from recent census—this county having furnished no official statement as yet—stands as follows:

Public Debt—For, 70,467; against, 28,447—majority for 42,020.
Sup. Public Works—For, 69,293; against, 22,896—majority for 46,397.
Census—For 70,077; against, 27,343—majority for 42,734.

Exemption from Taxes—For, 39,473; against, 26,207—majority for 13,266.
Universities—For, 68,938; against, 20,291—majority for 38,647.

Sessions General Assembly—For, 59,608; against, 28,563—majority for 31,045.

Code Commissioners For, 70,515; against, 32,818—majority for 37,697. Federal Office Holders—For, 68,222; against 29,285—majority for 38,937.

SUSPENSION OF JAY COOK & CO.

The great event of the past week was the suspension of Jay Cook & Co the farmers New York bankers. The terror caused by this event was only surpassed by that of the farmers black Friday. Oiler banking houses, and brokerage concerns in New York, Philadelphia and Washington City went by the board, being necessarily implicated in the transaction of so vast a concern.

It was at one time feared that the effects of the failure would be universally felt throughout the country, and have its influence upon the value of products of all kinds. Gold did go up a few per cent, and stocks down about 10 per cent. But the panic has subsided to a great extent, and the Government by authorizing the sale of $10,000,000 of bonds to furnish a supply of currency, has offered prompt and efficient relief.

It is gratifying to know that Southern institutions and interests do not appear to be affected.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The Internal Revenue Bureau has information that since the general abolition of the office of Assessor and Assistant Assessor the receipts from internal revenue have in no wise diminished, while the saving to the Government from the new economy in the administration of the law amounts to $2,500,000 per annum. In portions of the country where it is pretended that the local option law is enforced and the sale of malt and distilled liquors is prohibited, the consumption, according to the revenue receipts, is in no wise diminished. —Tobacco Leaf.

Danville Times says the editor of the Madison Enterprise on a recent visit to Danville, failed to find a dandy. We had the same experience. Rather we did not expect to find such cattle in a place so thoroughly devoted to business, where labor is honored and where idleness is scorned. The atmosphere of Danville is not congenial to the painted butterfly of fashion.

GOOD WORDS

FOR THE PAIN-KILLER.

We can confidently recommend the Pain-Killer.

It is the most effective remedy we know of for

Acute, Pain, Rheumatism, &c. St. John's News.

We advise that every family should have a few of these, which are produced by lead or unadulterated blood.

Our own experience is that a bottle of Pain-Killer is the best Physician a traveler can have.

For both internal and external application have found it of great value. —Ohio Era.

It can hardly keep home without it. —El Times.

Should be kept in every home, in readiness for sudden attacks of sickness. —Ohio Press.

No article ever obtained such unbounded popularity. —Salem Press.

One of the most reliable specifics of the age. —Old North State.

It is so comfortable and unequalled in relieving the most severe pain. —Burlington Star.

An indispensable article in the medicine chest. —N.Y. Evening.

It will recommend itself to all who use it. —Georgia Enterprise.

It is extensively used and sought after as a really useful medicine. —Journal St. John's N.S.

No medicine has secured such a reputation; it has recommended itself to a large and increasing number of the most useful medicines used in the world. —A. & S. Druggist & Apothecary.

The most valuable medicine now in use. —Temperance.

It is really a valuable medicine, and used by many physicians. —Lancet & Traveller.

We always keep it where we can put our hands on it in the dark, it need be. —See Herald.

SUPERIOR COURTS.

The Fall terms of the Courts not already held in this district, will commence as follows:

Rockingham Sept. 15th.
Caswell " 20th.
Person Oct. 13th.
Orange " 27th.
Chatham Nov. 10th.
Randolph " 24th.

Owing to serious illness in the family of our foreman, our paper is unavoidably behind-hand this week.

Change of Schedule.

Two trains are now running on the road from Company Shops to Charlotte, viz. The mail train on its present schedule, connecting with the Charlotte & Augusta Road, and the Express, running during the day, connecting with the Charlotte and Atlanta Air line which will be opened to mail and transportation on Monday. The only difference on this end of the line is the resumption of daily trains. We are informed on the highest authority that in a few weeks, there will be a revision of the schedule, and increased facilities and closer connections will be given to the Eastern Division.

Lents Great Circus.

This is after all, something new under the sun, at least so far as the South is concerned, and that something is Lents Great and only New York Circus and J. Evanson Universal Living Exposition. This will exhibit at Company Shops on Thursday Oct. 9th. It will not stop at Hillsboro. We have no doubt the high character and unequalled attractions of the show will draw many to the show from both ends of the road.

Wilson Clay and Green, Unstead could have arranged before his honor the Mayor on Monday morning, charged with an affray on the 25th inst. in which both of the parties were badly mauled with sticks, bricks &c. They were both fined $5, and cost, and bound over to the next term of the Superior Court.

We learn that Mr. Alfred Brown living in the neighborhood of Fiddlers, about 15 miles north of Hillsboro, committed suicide on Friday morning, by shooting himself in the head with a rifle. The result of temporary derangement resulted in the above means of ending his existence. The deceased leaves a wife and several children to mourn his untimely end.

Cotton.

In the middle region of the State is fine. In the Eastern counties, there has been much loss from rains, but from Wake to the western limit of the cotton growing region there is little cause of complaint. Picking is going on rapidly.

Tobacco.

Accounts from the Tobacco region confirm all that has been hitherto said on the subject, namely that there will be a full crop or nearly so of a very uniform article. The wet weather of August kept the weed growing, and the rains of September have kept the leaf saturated with sap, and there is little sign of ripening yet. Large fields that we saw in Virginia and North Carolina are as green as they were a month ago. Bright yellow is a scarce article and will command the highest prices. What old stock there is on hand of that quality is in great demand at high figures.

The Concord Sun.

We welcome friend Harris to our column. He put in his appearance this morning. Hitherto we have seen only the reflection of his brilliancy through the medium of other papers, now we will see it in all its pristine glory.

We will have more to say at another time of this genuine and original humorist who has struck out so distinctive a line in North Carolina Journalism.

Crops along the Road.

The corn crop, now that the fodder has been stripped, shows its real value. It appears to be a heavy one. The cotton from Lexington west is apparently excellent, and entirely free from the diseases which has beset it elsewhere, no worms, no rotting of bolls, no dropping. The Agricultural report puts the average of the crops in North Carolina at 101, which is higher than that of any other State. Our own observation might be a confirmation, but we judge only by the eye, and that the eye of hope.

It is gratifying to see a marked improvement along the road, both in the agriculture and the otherwise bettered condition of the people. The houses and fences all show more attention. A gentleman from the South, informed us that in these respects North Carolina showed a marked superiority to other States.

There is still room for improvement and we must accept the present only as a beginning of better days.

REICHMOND ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention of our Merchants, Druggists, Mechanics and Dealers generally to the column of New Richmond Advertisements, and urge upon them the policy and propriety of patronizing them. We make the appeal with confidence because every house in the list is first class in every respect, in fullness of stock, in liberality of terms, and in the highest integrity of character. Upon these points we will dilate in another column, or at another time. At present we have only room for the enumeration of the business houses referred to.

Weisger & Co. Wholesale Clothiers. A Magnificent stock of clothing of every description, not to be surpassed anywhere in the South, and at most reasonable prices.

Watkins & Cottrell, Hardware &c. This is an importing house, and their stock is complete and of the best character.

Benjamin Bates, Bookseller and Stationer. A most elegant stock of Books, Stationery, and a thousand articles of use and ornament, that will draw money from the pockets of the most niggardly.

A. L. Ellett & Co. Dry Goods and Notions. A stock of these descriptions of goods as complete as can be had in New York or Baltimore, and on equally as favorable terms.

Valentine & Co. Fancy Goods and Notions. A splendid house, and well worthy the high repute it has attained.

Yancy Franklin & Co. Notions &c. This is a new house, and with its freshness and fulness of stock presents a most enticing look.

Clark Wightman & Co. Hats Caps Straw Goods. This house keeps on hand a full stock of the latest styles, and offers every inducement to purchasers.

Warren L. Fleming, Confectioners &c. This house makes its own wares and everything is fresh and nice. Stocks fresh and terms easy.

Blair & Thaxton, White Goods, Notions &c. This house is fully equal to any other in the same line of business, and should command with the others a large North Carolina patronage.

Baughman Bros. Manufacturers and dealers of papers, twines, &c. This house has a full line of its specialties, bladders Stationery &c. Is a first rate house, and will fill orders on favorable terms.

James W. Gilson, China Glass ware &c. One of the best establishments of the kind in Richmond, with an elegant stock and moderate charges. We know this house well, and would recommend it.

Purcell Ladd & Co. Drugs &c. This is one of the oldest houses in the city and has a reputation so high, that we can add little to it by commendation. We think this house eminently worthy of patronage, and hope our druggists and others will see that it is so.

It is with much pleasure, that we are able to announce that our esteemed fellow citizen, Hon. W. A. Graham, is once more at home; much improved in health.

Death of Mrs. Tausett.

The wife of Mr. Geo. A. Faucett died in this vicinity on Monday night after long and acute suffering from cancer in the face.

The Salisbury Fair.

This exposition bids fair to fall but little behind the Raleigh Fair in interest. At least, every effort is being made to make it a success. It is expected that there will be at least 15,000 visitors. The Rail Road companies are very liberal in their rates of fare. Only $3.25 from Hillsboro and return, including a luncheon fee to the ground. This should induce many who have never gone up to the west to avail themselves of the opportunity.

Death of Mr. Allen Brown.

We learn with great regret of the death of this gentleman which occurred last week. He cut or crushed a finger of his right hand a short time since which was followed by lock jaw with the above fatal result.

Mr. Brown was about 70 years old, and was a mechanic of great skill and ingenuity, carrying on at one period of his life the manufacture of agricultural implements and machinery for mills on a large scale. He was an excellent and most useful citizen. He was a zealous member of the Baptist church with which he had been connected for many years.

Wild Cherry Balsam.—The memory of Dr. Wistar is embalmed in the hearts of thousands whom his Balsam of Wild Cherry has cured of coughs, colds, consumption, or some other form of pulmonary disease. It is now over forty years since this preparation was brought before the public, and yet the demand for it is constantly increasing.

TOBACCO.

Virginia Leaf.—There was a very good demand for Virginia tobacco last week, both manufacturers and shippers buying with more liberality than of late. The inquiry extended to all grades, and desirable parcels of almost all descriptions sold readily.

Buyers seemed more disposed than has previously been the case to accept holder's rates, which, besides increasing transactions, helped materially to strengthen and improve the tone of the market. As the season draws to a close, and the opportunity for making selections becomes more and more limited, it is to be expected that an increased activity will be observable among those desirous of securing what is left of the really good available stock.

Signs of the Zodiac.—A philosopher in the west grown into admiration of the Cherry Pectoral, writes Dr. Ayer for instructions under which sign he shall be bled, which blistered, and which vomited, and under which he shall take Ayer's Pills for an affection of the liver: also under which sign his wife should commence to take the Sarsaparilla for her ailment. He adds that he already knows to wear his calves under Taurus, charges his Pigs in Scorpio, cut his hair in Aries, and soak his feet in Pisces or Aquarius as their condition requires.

Schoolmasters start for Wisconsin, and visit Mr. Ham when you get there.—Lowell Daily News

Thousands have been changed by the use of the Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of Iron) from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial. For Dyspepsia and Debility it is a specific.

STATE ITEMS.

Rev. Charles Phillips is very ill in Washington City.

Judge Boyden has been dangerously ill at Salisbury Va. but is improving, and it is expected he will soon be able to return to his home in Salisbury.

The President of the U. S. has declined the invitation to attend the Fair at Raleigh.

Sheriff Hunter of Alamance has settled with the Public Treasurer, being the first to do so, and is said to be the earliest settlement made since the war.

The Daubury Reporter says that Andrew Steel, aged 53, is the oldest constable in the State.

Mr. Louis Shearin of Halifax Co. was recently killed by a gun in his own hands. He was about going out to work and blew into the barrel. The gun slipped some way, the hammer struck the door sill, and he was killed instantly.

A company in Fayetteville are about to undertake the draining of Flat Swamp on the east side of the river, which operation requires 20,000 acres of very fertile land.

Rev. N. C. Hughes the Rector of the Episcopal Church at Washington N. C. has tendered his resignation.

Mr. R. D. Graham has become the purchaser of the Atlantic Hotel at Beaufort, and will proceed to put it in order for next summer's visitors.

Mr. William Gordian, aged 95 visited Winston last week to take his first look at a rail road.

Mr. MeAdon is about erecting a new and fine hotel at Greensboro, Greensboro will soon need the additional accommodation.

All the prisoners made their escape from jail at Yanceyville a few nights ago. And a plot to make a general jail delivery at Wilmington, was frustrated by a timely discovery.

The citizen of Wilmington held a meeting in aid of the yellow fever sufferers at Shreveport and took efficient steps for relief. Wilmington has a grateful remembrance of the sympathy and help extended to her in her own calamity.

The Wilmington Journal says that the Express train going south came in collision with a freight train near Whitesville destroying the engine of the freight and several cars, and killing a brakeman.

Some papers say one of the whales of the W. & W. R. R. fell in under the weight of a heavy burden of salt, and about 300 bags were thrown into the river.

The harbor of Wilmington is again being filled with vessels, and presents quite a forest of masts. From the table of clearances from foreign and domestic ports for Wilmington it is reasonable to expect a heavy fall season.

The Journal complains that the east whites deprive the people of Wilmington of their autumn delicacies of fat fresh mullet and sweet potatoes.

Wilmington boasts of being ahead of Chicago in the application of the street cars to postal purposes. Wilmington is always ahead in everything.

The Journal says, the excavation on the Carolina Central has developed something more fascinating than coal. Gold has been discovered in the cut on Brown's creek; and rich samples of gold bearing earth have been exhibited.

Peo Dec Herald speaks of a coach whip snake killed in Anson Co. which was 9 feet 3 inches long.

The Fayetteville National Bank has bought a suitable lot for its new banking house, and will erect a fine building. We believe the old lot of the Observer building will be covered by the new bank building.
